Parakeet Café

PAYROLL · THE NEXT 52 WEEKS

Week Types and Hourly Templates

Each café's next 52 weeks grouped into a few types of week, and for each type the average week by day and hour, in sales and checks: the template to build the schedule on.

Ten cafés of the run-rate budget · 52 weeks, Oct 26, 2026 to Oct 24, 2027
Sales: today's run-rate by day · hours and checks: Toast POS, Oct 2024 – Oct 14, 2026, checked on Oct 15–19, 2026
Prepared October 21, 2026 · workbook: Parakeet_Week_Templates_Next_52_Weeks.xlsx

Two to four types of week per café, each with its own week by day and hour

01 Two to four types per café, each 10% above the one below, in runs of 4 weeks or more. Four: La Jolla Cove. Three: Coronado, La Jolla Juicery and Little Italy Café. Two (the minimum): Beverly Hills, Brentwood, Carlsbad, Del Mar Café, La Jolla Café and Newport Beach.

02 The busiest weeks are summer at the beach. Coronado's High weeks (Jun 28 – Aug 15, 2027) sell $104.3K a week, +61% on its Low weeks. Brentwood and Beverly Hills sell least in summer.

03 Hours move with the season. In summer La Jolla Juicery, Newport Beach, La Jolla Café, Del Mar Café and Carlsbad sell more of the day after 2pm (La Jolla Juicery: 29.4% of a High week, 28.0% of a Low one); each type has its own split of the day.

04 Holiday weeks go to the appendix. 21 weeks sell 10% more or less than their type and have a template of their own there, starting with Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's; other holidays are noted on the type's page.

05 Every week keeps its numbers, at today's level. A week sells 2–4% off its template on average (Weeks sheet). Today's run-rate, no growth ($29.45M); Oct 15–19 came in −0.8% against it.

HOW TO USE IT

1. Find the week in the calendar (pages 4–5, or the Calendar sheet): it gives the week's type. A dot marks a holiday week: its template is in the appendix.
2. Check the week's own sales in the Weeks sheet: if a day runs a few percent above or below the template, scale that day.
3. Open the café's page for that type: sales and checks for every hour, Monday to Sunday.
4. Staff each hour to its sales and checks with your own productivity standard.
5. On a holiday listed on the type's page, adjust that day: the page says how much more or less it sells.

One page per café shows its year week by week and its types; then one page per type. Holiday weeks are in the appendix. The workbook has every template, with formulas for the totals.

Weeks from the run-rate, hours from Toast

THE TYPES OF WEEK

Each café's next 52 weeks at today's run-rate (Monday to Sunday, from Oct 26, 2026) are split into types in runs of at least 4 weeks, the first and last included, so a type always runs from one week to another. The split keeps each week as close as it can to its type's level, and every change of type has to be worth about four weeks 5% off.

A café gets as many types as it can, up to four, while each type sells at least 10% more than the one below it; never fewer than two. Types are named by level: Low and High; Low, Normal and High; or Low, Normal, High and Super high.

HOLIDAY WEEKS

Weeks with a holiday (and spring break) do not move the types. Where one sells 10% more or less than its type's average week, it gets a template of its own, in the appendix; otherwise its holidays are listed on the type's page with what they sell.

LA JOLLA COVE

The run-rate carries the budget's remodeled café ($125K a month) from its October 1, 2027 reopening: its types are found on the weeks before, and the three weeks after are one more type, Remodeled. Its hours follow today's café until the remodeled one has its own.

THE TEMPLATE OF A TYPE

The average of the type's weeks, day by day (holiday weeks with their own template left out), so the templates on the calendar add up to the run-rate. Each day is split into hours along the café's pattern for that weekday (the hour each check was opened in Toast, Oct 2024 to Oct 14, 2026, the last 90 days weighing half), moved by the type's season: its own split of the day, measured within each year (so the drift to earlier hours each year is not read as a season) and used at half strength, as it changes from year to year. Holidays follow their own pattern from earlier years. Checks: each hour's sales over the café's average check for that hour and day, last 12 months.

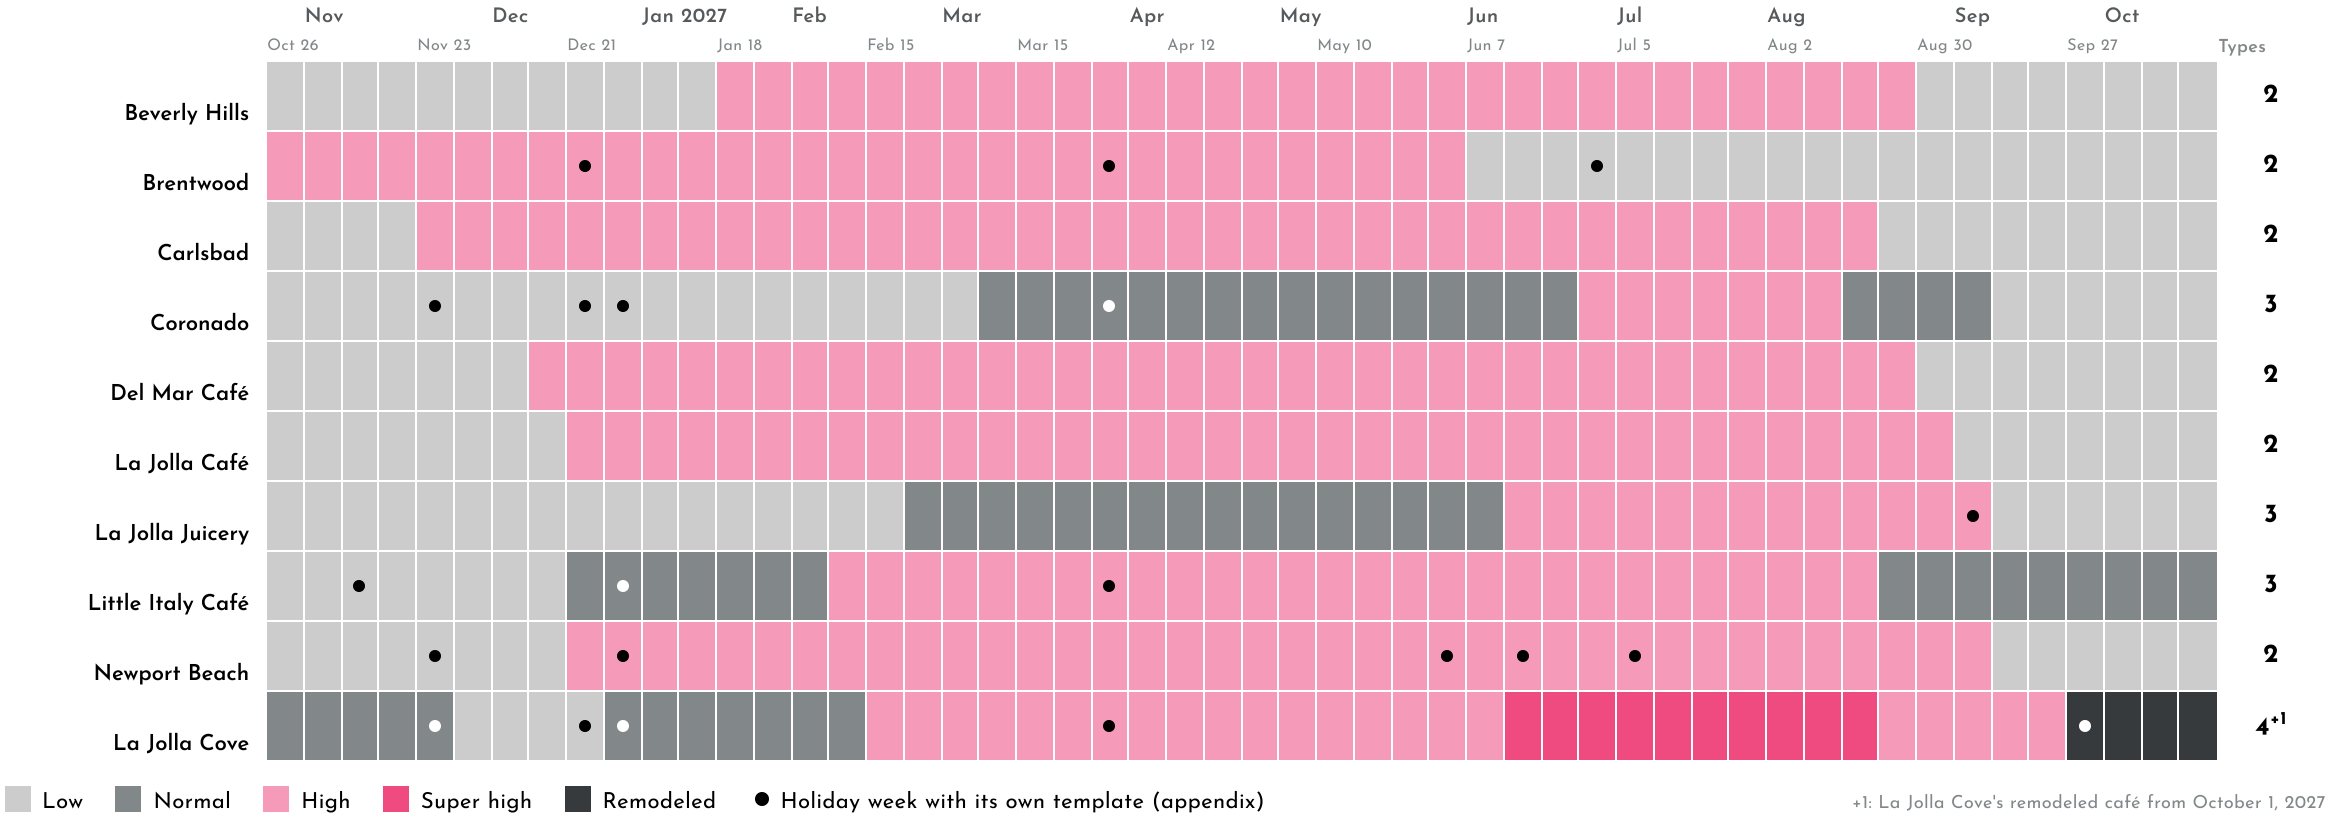

TESTED ON THE LAST YEAR

Every week of the next 52 and its type, café by café

Week 1 starts Monday Oct 26, 2026; week 52 ends Sunday Oct 24, 2027. A dot marks a holiday week with a template of its own, in the appendix.

+1: La Jolla Cove's remodeled café from October 1, 2027

DEL MAR CAFÉ LOW HIGH

Del Mar Café: two types of week

A week sells on average 2.0% more or less than its template (at most 6%). Two types is the minimum: here they are 8.6% apart, under the 10% rule, so the weeks change little through the year.

Run-rate by week, Oct 26, 2026 to Oct 24, 2027, coloured by type

Dashed lines: each type's average week

LA JOLLA CAFÉ LOW HIGH

La Jolla Café: two types of week

A week sells on average 2.5% more or less than its template (at most 6%). Two types is the minimum: here they are 9.8% apart, under the 10% rule, so the weeks change little through the year.

Run-rate by week, Oct 26, 2026 to Oct 24, 2027, coloured by type

APPENDIX

Holiday weeks

The 21 weeks that sell 10% more or less than their type. Each has a template of its own: use it instead of the type's that week.

3	Brentwood: Christmas, Spring break, Fourth of July
4	Coronado: Thanksgiving, Christmas, New Year's, Spring break
1	La Jolla Juicery: Labor Day
3	Little Italy Café: Veterans Day, New Year's, Spring break
5	Newport Beach: Thanksgiving, New Year's, Memorial Day, Father's Day, After the Fourth
5	La Jolla Cove: Thanksgiving, Christmas, New Year's, Spring break, Reopening

The holiday weeks in date order

Each replaces its type's template for that week. Beverly Hills, Carlsbad, Del Mar Café and La Jolla Café have none: their holidays are noted on each type's page.
